

Editor's Note

Our editorial team would like congratulate the Faculty of Medicine, Thammasat University to hold annual meeting for 2022. After past 2-3 difficulty years, all activities were limited or canceled including the annual meeting of the Faculty of Medicine. The theme this year is also fit the future trend in medicine and have several interesting abstracts, original articles and review articles include in this meeting. Advancement of science will drive future practice of medicine and the faculty work hard to publish new sciences for scientists to improve the patient care. We wish the Faculty of Medicine, Thammasat University well for all future successes that may arise.

Sincerely,

Anucha Apisarnthanarak, M.D.
